

Your executive team is agreeable, but results aren't fast enough. There may be hidden commitments, underlying beliefs, or gaps in accountability that are quietly constricting your team's effectiveness. The Executive Team MRI draws this out for $2,500.

WHAT THIS ENGAGEMENT DELIVERS

Executive Team MRI is a short, high impact diagnostic engagement that surfaces leadership and cultural patterns quickly and thoughtfully.

Through this engagement, we identify cultural norms related to decision making, communication, trust, accountability, and execution. Those insights are then synthesized into a clear executive summary that honors the team's strengths while safely exposing the hidden commitments that hold the team back.

How the Process Works

- One hour confidential interview with each executive leader
- Up to 5 leaders included
- Additional leaders may be included as needed

Following the interviews, our team synthesizes the input and prepares a concise readout that reflects what is occurring across the system rather than individual perspectives in isolation.

What You Receive

- A clear picture of leadership and cultural dynamics
- Identification of patterns that are limiting progress or creating friction
- Three recommended paths forward, scaled by depth and scope

Recommendations are presented at different levels so leaders can choose the approach that best fits their priorities and readiness.

WHEN THIS IS A GOOD FIT

THIS ENGAGEMENT IS WELL SUITED
FOR ORGANIZATIONS THAT:

- Want clarity before committing to a larger initiative
- Are navigating leadership transitions or growth
- Sense misalignment or stalled momentum
- Value an objective, external perspective
- Want recommendations tailored to their specific context
